Die Welt in Farben

portfolio of 41 mixed media photographs

Literature:

Please note: this portfolio is missing work #12

Portfolio size: 14 1/2 x 11 3/4

Using as source material a turn of the 20th century photo portfolio book bought at a flea market on Berlin's Unter Den Linden, Murray continues his experiments in traditional photographic methods and their eternally renewed relationship to painting. For Die Welt In Farben, Murray re-configures the photo lithograph of one of Europe's great sights found on each of the book's 41 pages as a collage made from his great stash of photo and painted imagery. These collages are then photographed on large-format negatives and printed traditionally, in black and white on fiber-based paper. Murray then colours each page by hand, using long-since discontinued archival photo oils, in the manner that photos were coloured at the beginning of the 20th century. These replacements are then re-attached to the original pages, completing the substitution of one definition of original with another. (2014) - from Wil Murray's website

Composition with Projection XII

Magnification screen, cotton rope, bronze tack, electrical tape and projector on tripod

33 x 17 x 8 inches 83.8 x 43.2 x 20.3 centimeters

Provenance: The Byron Aceman Collection, Vancouver

Exhibited:

Literature:

Composition with Projection XII is typical of Alexine McLeod's recent installation works consisting of an LCD projector shooting a still image of a coloured gradient at an arrangement of found objects. Each unique installation of the work will create a new interplay of light, shadow, and refraction as the projected image and the surrounding light passes through the suspended plastic magnifying sheet. The projector is mounted on the floor on a small tripod and is pre-set to display the image when it is turned on. The installation of the string, plastic magnifying sheet, brass tack and tape may vary slightly from the artists original arrangement pictured.

Please note the dimensions of this Lot are variable.

This Lot includes a 13 x 16 inch LG monitor, Mac Mini computer, charger, custom plexi casing, and back-up USB video file.
This work is edition 1/3.
Proscenium shows the stage of a dilapidated theatre, at the time the oldest building still standing (built in 1908, torn down in 2011) in the Pantages chain of Vaudeville theatres. The video is shot with two cameras turned on edge, so that each camera frames half of the stage. The resulting seam down the middle of the image is the site where various transformations, disappearances, and magic tricks take place.
